

DG Reimagined

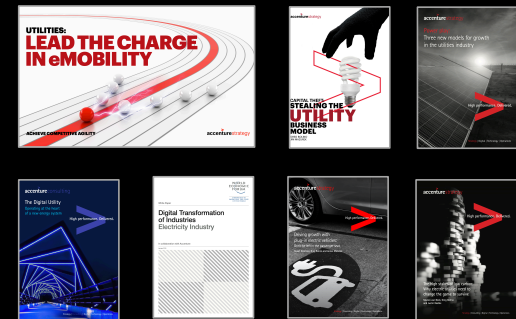

Greg Bolino

Greg is a seasoned business leader with over 35 years of consulting and management experience. For 17 years, he was Managing Director at Accenture and led the Utilities Strategy practice for North America. He served as thought leader and advisor to executives in the utilities and energy space. He has worked in multiple industries including utilities, telecommunications, media and cable, and retail in the US and Europe. He held leadership roles at Viant and CSC Index and executive positions at two venture-backed startups.

Greg helps leaders reinvent their businesses to enable growth through strategy, innovation, and new operating models. He has advised executive teams, boards, policy makers, and investors to help navigate changing landscapes in multiple industries. His work with utilities focused on the evolving utility business model, including utility of future strategies, energy services, and grid investment strategies. He is a strategic thinker, a compelling presenter, a collaborative consultant, and a skilled facilitator.

Greg is a thought leader on the energy transition and has published numerous perspectives on the changing energy landscape. He has shared his visionary perspective with Boards of Directors of numerous utilities, and has spoken at numerous conferences and industry gatherings.

Greg is passionate about the Clean Energy Transition. He founded DG Reimagined to help companies who see opportunities for growth in the clean energy transition including utilities, real estate, and transportation.
